State Agricultural Society. The eighth annual meeting of the Ohio State Agricultural Society met at Columbus on Wednesday the 7th instant, and as any one printed in any of the adjoining coun was the largest and most interesting of the ties; and in so doing, I shall have to look to the kind, yet held in Ohio.

Besides a large number of visitors from all parts of the State, regularly appointed representatives from sixty seven county that each man interested in the future growth societies were in attendance. The society was in session two days, and we would gladly publish a report of the entire prothe old members of the Board Joseph Sul-Medary having postively declined to serve Stedman of Cuyahoga and J. K. Greene of Hamilton, were elected members of the Board for the present term. The new Hon. R. W. Musgrave President, Jas. L. error. Cox. Esqr. Recording Secretary and Jos. Sullivant Esqr. Treasurer, and appointing Dr. George Sprague of Tiffin, corresponding Secretary.

The election of Judge Musgrave is deserved compliment to his zealous and efficient services in the Board during the past two years. Mr. Cox we don't know but presume we have lost nothing by substituting him for the distinguished selfsustaining, and self-inflating Joe. G. Gest. Dr. Sprague we do know, and consider his appointment as one emphatically "fit to be made." From the circular below it will be seen that the Doctor has already entered upon the duties of his new office.

CIRCULAR.

Rooms of Ohio State Board of Agriculture Columbus December 20, 1853.

With a view to the formation of a "nucleus." around which may hereafter be collected an extensive and interesting Cabinet, containing specimens of most of the to be arranged for inspection in the Rooms of the State Board, at Columbus, the undersigned knows of no better means of reaching the farmers of Ohio, than through the medium of the "local press" of the various counties.

He would therefore invite successful competitors at the late County Fair of Wyandot County, and the farmers of the county generally to contribute specimens of Wheat, Corn, Oats, Cloverseed, Timothy Seed, Apples, Potatoes and Wool, depositing the same with the Secretary of their County Society as soon after receiving this Circular as convenient, that specimens may be obtained and arranged by the time of the next regular meeting of the Board, which will commence on the 17th of next month, (January,) to be sent by the Secretary of each County Society, (with models of Farm Implements, and Native Minerals, when these can be procured.) by Express, (or private conveyance, when opportunity offers,) in parcels as follows: Of Wheat, and other small grains and seeds, one pint each. Corn in the ear, one half dozen ears. Two samples each of the various Fruits and Vegetables upon which premiums were awarded, and samples of Wool.

The effort will hereafter be made to obtain a renewal of specimens immediately after the close of the annual County Fairs, to be selected from articles drawing premiums. By this means delegates from County Societies to the annual meetings in December, will have a bird's-eye view of all the County Fairs in Ohio, in the departments of Fruit, Grain, Seeds and Vegetables, as also in the article of Wool. All articles so contributed, being labeled with the name of the producer, (Grains and furnished, by which an interchange or purchase of Grains and Vegetables may be made, promising certainty in the results, and laying the foundation for material upon which to base a reciprocal interchange of

"It is to be lamented that the editors of the lifferent Gazettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly (instead of stuffing their papers with scurrility and nonsensical de-clamation, which few would read if they were appraised of the contents) publish the debates in Congress on all great national questions.— The principle upon which the difference of o pinions arrises, as well as the decisions, would then come fully before the public, and afford the best data for its judgement."—[Spark's wri-tings of Washington, vol. 10. p. 84. From the passage in the letter of General Washington, which I have quoted, it will be perceived that he thought this office might be combined with that of a regular newspaper;—and it is certain that the avidity of the public for news of the tess important kind greatly con-tributes to give wings to the weightier matter which may be called Congressional news.

Having succeeded in my purpose of perfecting the reports of the debates in Congress and giving the official stamp, I now propose to send them abroad, in connection with the news of the day, in such haste as shall outstrip full and accurate intelligence sent from the seat of govfrees; each in succession will take notes during five minutes, then retire, prepare them for the Press, put them slip by slip in the hands of the compositors, and thus, while a debate is going on in Congress, it will be put in type, and in a few minutes after it is ended it will be in print. I shall by this means be enabled to send by the Express Mail of 5 o'lcock, P. M., or the East, West, and North, and by that of 9 oclock, P. proceedings of the Executive Departments and the information collected by them even during the recess of Congress is of so much importance to the interests of every section of the country-that I shall continue the publication of a daily paper permanently, with a view to become the vehicle of the earliest and most cor-

It is part of my plan to reduce the price of the daily paper to half that of similar daily papers; and thus I hope to extend its circulation so as to invite advertisements. I will publish advertisements of the Government. To subscribers in the cities I hope to submit such terms as will induce them to advertise their business in every village throughout the Union, where the Globe is sent daily under the franks of members of Congress, all of whom take it, and some of them a large number of copies.

The installation of a new Administration and a new Congress portends much change in the course of public affairs as the result of the next Many vast interests which were bro't up in the last Congress were laid over by the nocratic majority to await the action of a Democratic Executive. The new modeling of the tariff; the new land system; the question of pproximation of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans a national railroad across the territory of the Union; reform in the Army, Navy, and civil offices—all these great questions, with a thousand minor ones, deeply affecting multitudes of men and every State in the Union, will, now being matured by public opinion, come up for the nual premiums, Capital stock and Surplus Government's decision. To these elements of interest another is likely to be introduced by the interposition of the agi tations of Europe. After nearly forty years of peace in Europe there is an evident restlessness that now seem fraught with tendencies threatening war, and if war comes, in all likelihood there will be such a universal change that the U. States can scarcely hope to escape its vor-tex. Indeed, from late events it is apparent that our Government is already drawn into European difficulties. These circumstances are calculated to draw the public mind towards the next Congress with much expectation.
